GOD CALLS PEOPLE TO BE JESUS’ DISCIPLES

BAND C

PLANNING GUIDE
This planning guide is a part of LIFE, a Christian Studies curriculum developed for Lutheran schools.

LIFE is a joint project of the Board for Lutheran Schools of the Lutheran Church of Australia and Openbook Publishers.

_God calls people to be Jesus’ disciples_ is one of twelve concepts covered by LIFE curriculum. This BAND C planning guide contains model units for three years covering the transition from primary to secondary school.

AIMS

The ultimate aim of LIFE curriculum is that

- students will come to know God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit
- students will have faith in God as their Father, Saviour, and Helper.

We understand that faith is entirely a gift of the Holy Spirit.

We teach in obedience to Jesus’ command to go and teach.

How can people have faith in the Lord and ask him to save them, if they have never heard about him? And how can they hear, unless someone tells them? Romans 10:14 (CEV)

GOD CALLS PEOPLE TO BE JESUS’ DISCIPLES

As Christians we believe this and are compelled to tell others.

Our aim in teaching this concept is that students

- hear,
- explore and
- reflect on

these faith statements:

1. God calls people to follow Jesus
2. Jesus’ disciples are forgiven and forgiving
3. Jesus’ disciples live by God-given values and ethics
GOD CALLS PEOPLE TO BE JESUS’ DISCIPLES

LEARNERS AND FOLLOWERS

The main focus of this concept is on the relationship between Jesus and those who believe in him.

The word ‘disciple’ means ‘learner’. Disciples of Jesus learn from him about God and themselves and their life as God’s people. Jesus as rabbi (teacher) reveals to his pupils the ‘secrets of the kingdom of heaven’, often by means of parables (Matthew 13:11; 11:25–27). The Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5–7) is an example of Jesus’ disciples learning from their teacher. Jesus teaches them such things as what it means to be under God’s gracious rule, how to live as God’s people, and how to pray. Disciples are also ‘followers’. They identify with their Lord and Master and go where he goes. They trust him to lead them. They obey his directions.

‘I CHOSE YOU’

It was customary in Jesus’ day for men who wanted to learn the law of Israel to apply for admission into a rabbi’s school. Jesus’ disciples, however, did not choose him as their rabbi; Jesus took the initiative and did all the choosing (John 15:16). His choice was not based on their merit, past performance, or future potential. He selected most unlikely people: nobodies from the backblocks of Palestine, uneducated fishermen and hated tax collectors (Matthew 4:20–22; 5:3; 9:9; 1 Corinthians 1:26–31; compare with the choice of Israel in the Old Testament [Deuteronomy 7:6,7 ]). Jesus’ choice of twelve disciples (= twelve tribes of Israel) suggests that his followers were the chosen people of God in the new covenant. In addition to the ‘inner circle’ there were many other disciples (Luke 6:17). Unlike other Jewish rabbis, Jesus also had female disciples, for example, Mary, who ‘sat at the Lord’s feet listening to what he said’ (Luke 10:38–42; see also Luke 8:1–3).

When Jesus lived on earth, he called people to follow him. He wanted to show them God’s way and to prepare them for a new life of service as God’s forgiven people.

Responding to God’s call to follow Jesus as disciples changes people’s lives. It makes them channels of the life and love of God.

Theological Foundations of LIFE Curriculum

COST OF DISCIPLESHIP

To be a disciple of Jesus requires total commitment. When Jesus commanded ‘Follow me’, people had to leave everything: their professions, possessions and families (Matthew 19:27–29). Disciples have to count the cost of following Jesus (Luke 14:25–33). Often the commitment Jesus demands of his followers seems harsh (Luke 9:57–62; Matthew 10:37; John 15:18–25), but because there is no real life apart from Jesus, we dare not let anything or anyone come between us and him. Following Jesus means saying no to one’s old self, giving up all earthly security and being ready to suffer for the sake of the Lord (Matthew 16:24–26).

FORGIVEN AND FORGIVING

Unworthy sinful people can become disciples of Jesus only because he comes to them in grace (undeserved love) with the forgiveness of their sins (Matthew 9:9–13; Luke 5:8,10b).

Forgiveness is at the centre of the life of Jesus’ disciples. God’s forgiveness is unmerited, unconditional and absolute. When God forgives, he also forgets (Jeremiah 31:34). (Note how in Jesus’ parable about forgiveness the master takes pity on his servant and wipes out the huge unpayable debt. Matthew 18:21–35).

The weaknesses and failures of Jesus’ disciples (their desertion, Peter’s denial, etc) remind us that disciples live only by God’s grace and forgiveness. Jesus taught his disciples to pray for the forgiveness he has won for all people (Matthew 6:12).

Forgiveness is the mark of Jesus’ disciples in their relationships with other people. Forgiveness does not come naturally or easily to any human being. Our natural inclination is to demand justice and seek revenge, even though we ourselves have been shown mercy (Matthew 18:21–35). The more closely we follow our Lord, and the more we draw our life from him (as branches in the vine, John 15:1–5), the more we will be like our Father in heaven and be merciful and forgiving to those who sin.

When Jesus lived on earth, he called people to follow him. He wanted to show them God’s way and to prepare them for a new life of service as God’s forgiven people. Responding to God’s call to follow Jesus as disciples changes people’s lives. It makes them channels of the life and love of God.

against us (Matthew 5:38–48; Ephesians 4:32; Colossians 3:12–14). It may not be possible for us to forget completely a wrong that has been done to us, but when that wrong comes to mind, we are to forgive it again and again, even ‘seventy-seven times’ (Matthew 18:21,22).

VALUES AND ETHICS FOR DISCIPLES  Following Jesus includes living by values and ethics that are different from those of the rest of society. The natural human tendency is for each person to follow self-interests and to ask: What’s in it for me? The humanistic approach is to ask: What’s best for the human race as a whole? Jesus gives his disciples a different basis for their values and ethics — the guiding principle for his own life on earth: What is the will of the Father in heaven? What does our Father want us to value? How does our Father want us to act?

The law of love is fundamental for disciples. Jesus taught that the ‘greatest commandment’ is: ‘Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind’ and: ‘Love your neighbour as yourself’ (Matthew 22:37,38). The Ten Commandments spell out what it means to love God and other people. For example, it means valuing God above anything or anyone else (see also Matthew 6:19–33), using God’s name with respect, honouring and obeying parents and other representatives of God, regarding human life as sacred, being faithful in marriage, not being jealous.

The law of love and the Ten Commandments are ‘moral absolutes’, that is, they can never be put aside (Matthew 5:17–20); they apply in every situation. However, the application of these moral absolutes may vary from situation to situation. Jesus’ disciples are called to listen carefully to his word and the word of Scripture generally, so that, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, they have ‘the mind of Christ’ (1 Corinthians 2:16). St Paul appeals to Christians ‘in view of God’s mercy’: ‘Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is — his good, pleasing and perfect will’ (Romans 12:1,2).

FOR REFLECTION AND/OR DISCUSSION

1. What questions do the Background Notes raise for you? What questions do you think your students will have on this topic?

2. Why is this an important topic to teach to your students? What implications might the topic have for the life of your school?

3. Discuss the concept of commitment as an essential feature of discipleship. How does the commitment to Christ of modern Christians (church members) compare with the commitment people show to work, sport, education and other aspects of life?

4. Comment on the following:
   a) ‘Christians live by grace.’
   b) ‘Christians aren’t perfect, just forgiven.’
   c) ‘I can forgive, but I can’t forget.’

5. Are Christian schools meant to reflect the values of society or to shape them? How do you think the parents of your students would answer this question?

The focus of this unit is the relationship Christians have with Jesus. Be sensitive to the range of students’ experience with Jesus. When choosing activities, be inclusive of all students and do not force students to make a faith response. Make sure, however, that students do hear Jesus’ call to follow him, so that the Holy Spirit has the opportunity to do his work in them.

Recognise that forgiveness does not come naturally. Accept students’ difficulties and struggles with forgiving others. Encourage honest responses rather than a superficial or forced ‘I forgive you’. Reassure all students that God forgives people even when they have difficulty forgiving.

The development of ethics and values is a complex process. You will need to provide opportunities and time for students to discuss and clarify their attitudes and values.

DEVELOPMENTAL CHARACTERISTICS

Students enjoy group tasks which challenge their learning.

The peer group exerts increasing pressure. Choices can be made to seek approval from peers.

Students are growing in their capacity to recognise moral standards or conventions. Students’ capacity for value judgments is increasing.

Students are growing in their capacity for deductive thinking or sequential reasoning.

Expectations of human potential are unlimited and can be unrealistic.

Students’ view of the world is expanding, and students have a greater awareness of important real-life issues.

IMPLICATIONS FOR TEACHING

Provide opportunities for students to work in groups and to discuss their responses.

Encourage students to discuss the influence peers can have on decision-making.

Present Christian values clearly, but do not try to impose values upon the students. Provide opportunities for students to clarify and discuss their values. Encourage them to assess critically the value systems they encounter.

Provide stories involving dilemmas and difficult choices, encouraging students to consider how they might deal with the situation.

Challenge students to think logically and don’t ‘spoon-feed’ or talk down to them.

Encourage creativity and provide opportunities for developing imagination. Be aware of impractical and fanciful ideas and provide time for students to realise for themselves that some ideas are unrealistic.

Use real-life issues with a high level of human interest as stimulus for discussion. Provide time for students to consider and discuss the way in which Christians approach these issues.
Students’ imagination can be captured by romantic or historical figures.

Don’t hesitate to present the challenge of Jesus’ call to discipleship.
Share stories with a strong emotional impact about Christian disciples.
